THE BOOKS ARE SWITCHED

Everyone at the College — students, faculty and administration — participated in a giant moving operation Sept. 19. Leading the first group was President Ellis who carried the first books from Carnegie Hall into the new L. A. Beeghly library one block away.

Dedicatory statement at the new library was given by Dr. John C. Baker '17, chairman of the board of trustees, Oct. 11.

THE NEW L. A. BEEGHLY LIBRARY IS DEDICATED

Instructions to start "book switch" were given by Mrs. Anne Catlin, director of libraries.

"Follow your color code" instructs Prof. J. Peter Trexler, chief traffic cop for switch.

Lines form in front of Carnegie Hall to obtain first load of books. Then, out the back door!

Coming along the south side of Beeghly Library with armloads of knowledge.

The line moves rapidly at first aided by the College Band playing in front of Science Hall.

A MOVING DAY OF HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

A "MOVING DAY" of historical significance was held at the College Sept. 19 when nearly 900 students, faculty and staff joined in transferring 60,000 volumes from the old to the new library.

The move into L. A. Beeghly Library, about one block from the old building, was completed in less than six hours in a gigantic operation called "Book Switch."

Three "teams" of students, headed by President Calvert N. Ellis, carried the first books—on philosophy—out of Carnegie Hall at 8:58 a. m. The last book (Biography of Zwingli) was placed on the shelf in the new building at 2:45 p. m. by Dean Morley J. Mays, vice-president for academic affairs.

The actual moving time was only a few minutes over four hours, however, because of a 15-minute "coffee break" and an hour or more for lunch.

Careful preliminary planning by the director of libraries, Mrs. Anne C. Catlin, and the librarian, Mrs. Sarah S. Hettinger, resulted in the "clock-work" precision of the book shifting. The librarians prepared for this move like a general for a major campaign. Every detail was arranged.

Books were carried by the armful from the 57-year old building and placed on the shelves in the new stacks according to a prescribed color code. The college band played on the campus lawn throughout the day.

The last load of books, including "Biography of Zwingli," was carried into the new library by Dean Morley J. Mays.

Where There Is a Cause

JUNIATA'S long-range development program is not only a test of the college's vitality but also a challenge to dedicated and selfless people to provide help in many ways.

One of those is L. A. Beeghly, a Youngstown, Ohio, industrialist, whose foundation has been one of the most generous contributors in building a stronger Juniata College for future generations.

Just a temporary delay in the lines which moved with precision into Beeghly Library.

The reward was doughnuts.

... And a cool drink!

DEDICATED TO THE “UNNUMBERED GENERATIONS”

THE COLLEGE's sparkling new L. A. Beeghly library was officially accepted and dedicated Friday, Oct. 11, “to the unnumbered generations of students who will attend this college in the oncoming years” at a formal convocation in Oller Hall.

At the same time, the assembled librarians and delegates of 59 institutions and associations, plus students, faculty, alumni and friends, were convinced that “the library is living readers” by one of the nation's best known librarians, Lawrence Clark Powell.

“This fair new building, these willing servants called librarians, these books, however essential, are not the library,” Dr. Powell maintained. “No. The library is living readers. Long life to Juniata!”

Formal dedication of the building was made by Dr. John C. Baker '17, chairman of the board of trustees, who presided at the afternoon ceremony. The prayer of dedication was delivered by the Rev. Norman J. Baugher, general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board, Church of the Brethren.

Dr. Baker expressed deep appreciation, on behalf of the board of trustees, to Leon A. Beeghly “a distinguished industrialist and philanthropist from Youngstown, Ohio . . . who continues to carry out a great American tradition . . . through his own success liberally to help others so that they too may succeed and have a better life."

Librarian Powell, dean of the School of Library Service, UCLA, also was the recipient of an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree conferred by President Calvert N. Ellis "for his role as a librarian, complete and extraordinary." An honorary Doctor of Laws degree was conferred on Frank Hamilton Bowles, president of the College Entrance Examination Board, "for his role in advancing educational competence in the United States and around the world."

In a dedicatory address entitled "Rivers and Reading," which was whimsical and witty, Dr. Powell pointed out that "two things brought me here today . . . a river . . . a library." He described them as "irresistible temptations . . . an old river . . . a new library."

Dr. Powell referred to Malcolm Cowley's book Blue Juniata, and said his passion for rivers is almost equal to his desire for books.

Developing his theme, the university librarian stressed that "the more I read, the more I confirm the truth that every book has a special relationship for every reader, a time in the reader's life when if the book is read at that particular time, it will impart its maximum message."

Processional of delegates, faculty and trustees moves from Memorial Gym to Oller Hall for dedication service.

Representatives of 59 universities, colleges and associations assembled in colorful academic attire.

Dr. Powell was pleased to pose with Mrs. Catlin, director of libraries (center), and Sarah Hettinger, librarian.

An honorary doctor of humane letters degree was awarded to Dr. Powell by President Ellis during convocation.

Honorary doctorates were conferred by President Ellis on Frank H. Bowles (left), former president of College Entrance Examination Board, now an executive with the Ford Foundation, who received the doctor of laws, and Lawrence Clark Powell (right), dean of the School of Library Service, University of California at Los Angeles, who was awarded the doctor of humane letters.

LIBRARY IS DESIGNED TO ANSWER NEEDS OF VIGOROUS SCHOLARSHIP

THE L. A. BEEGHLY LIBRARY cannot hide its newness; it sparkles with newly set mortar, newly laid tile, newly made furnishings. And there's no need to hide this newness, for Juniata College is justifiably proud of this recently completed structure and the broadened vistas of educational opportunity it offers to those who will use it.

New in structure, old in tradition, the library is designed to meet the needs of vigorous scholarship. Scholarship has always rested upon the ready availability of books, upon the ability of man to build new knowledge out of old. And scholarship is an identifying mark of Juniata.

Architecturally, the building is simple and basic. In planning the library primary attention was given to function and atmosphere. Each of the three floors is a book world unto itself. Orderly and organized for maximum study effectiveness, these floors will have balanced use by Juniata students and faculty.

The physical nature of the building encourages the type of library program considered by the college to be most helpful to students. Open stacks allow free access to most of the library's thousands of volumes. Conveniently located tables and chairs in all parts of the building invite students to work in close proximity to the shelves of books they will be using. The entire library is a work room for the benefit and convenience of all.

The main floor is the business floor of the library. Here are the library offices, work rooms, and the circulation desk where books are checked in and out. The card catalog, key to the library's book collection, is on this floor. Here, too, are the reference shelves, periodicals, reserve books and microfilm room. An attractive and comfortable browsing area near the main entrance is well-stocked with current periodicals and new books.

Book shelves on the second floor hold the volumes for the humanities and the social studies. Reading areas and study tables are located in and around the shelf areas for student convenience. On this floor, also, are the seminar rooms, student typing rooms, the staff lounge, and the well-appointed William Emmert Swigart Treasure Room.

Science books and material have been placed temporarily on the ground floor (until the new Science Center is completed), where adequate space is provided for additions to the book collection. The College Book Store has been located in the northwest section of the ground floor.

A distinctive feature above the main entrance to the library displays the seals of Juniata College, the community of Huntingdon and Alexander Mack, the founder of the Church of the Brethren, in blue and gold tile.

SWIGART TREASURE ROOM PROVIDES FINE DISPLAY AREA FOR LIBRARY

The William Emmert Swigart Treasure Room, located in the central section of the second floor, provides a beautifully appointed area to display early Pennsylvania German imprints, so important to the history of the Commonwealth.

This room has been provided by Mrs. W. Emmert Swigart and members of the family in memory of her husband, a prominent insurance executive of Huntingdon.

Treasured here are the publications from early Pennsylvania presses which were collected by the late Martin Grove Brumbaugh, former Governor of Pennsylvania and a past president of Juniata College; the late Abraham H. Cassel, an antiquarian from Harleysville, Pa.; and Mr. Swigart.

The library also contains many rare books, first editions, and incunabula, as well as manuscripts and documents relating to the early history of the Church of the Brethren. All of these collections hold great interest for visiting scholars and add to the invigorating academic atmosphere.

A BASIC HOME REFERENCE LIBRARY FOR THE COLLEGE GRADUATE

By Dr. Lawrence Clark Powell

Compiled and annotated by Lawrence Clark Powell, witty and widely known authority on books, who spoke at the dedication of the college's L. A. Beeghly Library, this brief article is the kind of feature that can have far-reaching effects upon alumni-magazine readers. We are delighted with it, and we hope you will be, too.

YOUR BASIC home reference library will be determined by who you are, what you do, and where you live. Lawyer, banker, doctor, writer, realtor, housewife; east, west, north, south: each will need his or her own books of reference. Is there such a thing as an average man or woman college graduate and a library to suit? I think not. Individual differences in taste and need are infinite; regional interests are extremely varied.

So any choice of 25 basic home reference books is arbitrary. My selections are mostly orthodox, although I have salted in a few eyebrow-raisers. Alice in Wonderland and Andersen's Fairy Tales, for example — just to make you ask, how can he call them reference books? I'll tell you. Because I've found myself referring to them again and again through the years since boyhood, using them in the aging process as touchstones, measuring sticks, and lodestars. Isn't that a good enough definition of a reference book?

I have suggested locations for these books—living room, kitchen, study or den, and bedroom. You may prefer to shelve the Modern Home Medical Adviser in the rumpus room. Some people read in the bathroom, if not actually in the tub. I don't. But I do keep a few reference books in my car, to read when tied up on the freeway.

The secret of a good reference library is to have the books always there. Lend not your books. Don't try to compete with the public library. The paperback revolution has brought thousands of good books down to purse level. Architects, particularly of tract houses, seem to be unaware that people are buying books as never before. Although I own hundreds of paperbacks, my reference books are all in hardbound copies for the hard wear they get.

All of the 25 reference books in the following list are in print and can be bought at, or through, your local bookstore. If there isn't a bookstore in your community, you are lacking one of the hallmarks of civilization. Church, school, library, park, bookstore—the essentials for cultural living.

The basic things in life are of the brain, the stomach, and the heart, and my reference books relate to all three. He who lives and reads not is no more alive than he who reads and lives not. I remember what that great public librarian, Joseph L. Wheeler, retired head of the Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore, said when queried as to why he had thousands of books shelved in every room and on the stairs of his home: "Books are cheaper than wallpaper." And who was it who said, "Books! Next to mother's milk the best food?" See item 5. Use your reference books!

Living Room

1. WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE. Third edition unabridged. G. C. Merriam Co. $47.50, plus $32.50 for the little wheeled truck to hold it.

Along with stove and bed, this is basic household equipment. Keep it centrally in the house, with smaller dictionaries in the other rooms.

2. THE COLUMBIA ENCYCLOPEDIA IN ONE VOLUME. Second edition with 1959 supplement. Edited by Bridgewater and Sherwood. Columbia University Press. $35.

If you haven't shelf and purse for one of the great multi-volume encyclopedias, this is the best single-volume work. When things get strained domestically, gather the family in front of the fireplace and read aloud from the encyclopedia. It soothes and distracts.

3. A DICTIONARY OF CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN USAGE. By Bergen Evans and Cornelia Evans. Random House. $5.95.

A witty gloss on words and phrases, good and bad, which can be used as a tool by writers and as a conversation piece by readers.

4. THE READER'S ENCYCLOPEDIA. An Encyclopedia of World Literature and the Arts. Edited by William Rose Benet. Crowell. $47.95.

Includes all manner of things, themes, people, and places, encountered in reading, with 19,008 articles on 1,270 pages. Excellent for students' homework.

5. FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS. By John Bartlett. Thirteenth and Centennial Edition. 1955. Little, Brown & Co. $10.

Who, where, when.

6. THE WORLD ALMANAC AND BOOK OF FACTS. Edited by Harry Hansen. New York World-Telegram. $2.

This famous annual originated as a newspaper office handbook. If you are addicted to quizzes and contests, chain this book to you.

7. DOCUMENTS OF AMERICAN HISTORY. Edited by Henry Steele Commager. Appleton-Century-Crofts. $6.50.

Here, in full, are the fundamental sources of American history, from the time of Columbus to the present, which are more read about than read.

8. HOME BOOK OF VERSE, American and English. Compiled by Burton Egbert Stevenson. Ninth edition. 2 volumes. Henry Holt & Co. $25.

First published in 1912, this massive compilation of familiar and conventional poetry is arranged in broad subject divisions such as Love and Death. I have an early single-volume edition, given to me by my mother on my ninth birthday, and it doubles nicely as a doorstop when it's windy in my study. Companion volume is Stevenson's Home Book of Modern Verse. $10. The compiler, who died last year in very old age, was librarian of the Chillicothe, Ohio, Public Library.

9. RAND McNALLY COSMOPOLITAN WORLD ATLAS. Rand McNally Co. $14.95.

"I should like to rise and go where the golden apples grow," wrote Robert Louis Stevenson in A Child's Garden of Verses. A good atlas is just as poetic a book. If you have traveled, it will show you where you went; if you plan to travel, it will guide you. There are many atlases; this one is excellent for its large, clear maps and its wealth of statistical and other supplementary data.

Kitchen

10. THE JOY OF COOKING. By Irma Rombauer and Marion Becker. Bobbs-Merrill. $4.95.

Flip a coin for this or Fanny Farmer, and whichever comes up, you will get one of the two best cookbooks according to la cuisine americaine. This is another book to be chained—to your wife, of course, who is already secured to stove and sink.

11. THE COOKOUT BOOK. With an introduction to the techniques of barbecue cooking and entertaining. By Helen Evans Brown and Philip S. Brown. Ward Ritchie Press. $7.50.

Imaginative and appetizing recipes for barbecuing meats, fowl, and seafoods, in a volume that was chosen by the American Institute of Graphic Arts as one of the year's most beautiful. Incidentally, the Browns agree that the best cooks are of the male sex—outdoor cooks, that is.

12. LAROUSSE GASTRONOMIQUE. THE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FOOD, WINE, AND COOKERY. By Prosper Montagne. Crown Publishers. $20.

The first English translation of this huge French classic. The accent is on that country, for there is no denying the French leadership in the world of food. The articles and illustrations cover everything relating to the subject, including places, plates, partridges, and parsley.

13. WINE AND SPIRITS, A Complete Buying Guide. By William E. Massee. McGraw-Hill. $8.95.

Includes all countries and their drinks, with advice on how to store and serve.

14. HORTUS SECOND. A Concise Dictionary of Gardening, General Horticulture, and Cultivated Plants in North America. Compiled by L. H. Bailey and Ethel Zoe Bailey. Macmillan. $13.50.

This is a revised and enlarged second edition of the classic American work on green growing things. If you are lucky, you will have a kitchen garden with let-

"After all manner of professors have done their best for us, the best place to get knowledge is books."—CARLYLE tuces, parsleys, herbs (and snails), and Hortus will be your bible.

15. MODERN MEDICAL ADVISER. Edited by Morris Fishbein, M.D. Garden City Books. $4.95.

Written under Dr. Fishbein's direction by various medical authorities, this is a good book to have around just in case.

Study, Den, and Bedroom

16. ALICE IN WONDERLAND and THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS. By Lewis Carroll. Grosset & Dunlap. $2.75.

The older one grows, the better it reads. This edition includes the original illustrations by John Tenniel. The author, whose real name was C. L. Dodgson, was a professor of mathematics who lived for 45 years in the same bachelor quarters at Christ Church, Oxford, none of which accounts for this work of genius.

17. FAIRY TALES. By Hans Christian Andersen. Grosset & Dunlap. $2.75.

Here again it's a coin flip as to whether it be Andersen or Grimm. I flipped, and the great Dane won. This edition has illustrations by Arthur Szyk.

18. ISLANDIA. By Austin T. Wright. Rinehart & Co. $5.95.

This is a long utopian novel, written in secret by a law professor and published posthumously. Throughout the world a body of readers have organized and called themselves Islandians, sans dues or by-laws. This novel is the standard reference work by which they live.

19. THE PORTABLE EMERSON. Edited by Mark Van Doren. Viking Press. $2.95.

Though he lived and wrote a hundred years ago, he is more modern than we are, his prose seeded with time bombs, set to go off in succeeding generations. If you are timid, conservative, and a slave of the status quo, don't let this book in your house.

20. THE PORTABLE THOREAU. Edited by Carl Bode. Viking Press. $2.95.
Here is another Yankee radical who whipped progress, conformity, togetherness, and all the other dogmas which bite our heels. This too is a subversive book which should be given to the young and kept from the old.

21. THE PORTABLE MELVILLE. Edited by Jay Leyda. Viking Press. $2.95.
Includes the best of the novels, stories, poems, and letters of the great mariner-mystic, who won popular fame, and lost it, and won it again—posthumously. Melville was born and died in Manhattan, and that island community has yet to erect an appropriate memorial to him.

22. THE PORTABLE WHITMAN. Edited by Mark Van Doren. Viking Press. $2.95.

The good gray Quaker poet's Leaves of Grass stays forever green through the years which wither most things. "Who touches this book, touches a man."

23. THE PORTABLE MARK TWAIN. Edited by Bernard de Voto. Viking Press. $2.95.

Includes Huckleberry Finn, that revolutionary novel which points to the ultimate reconciliation between white and black.

24. SHAKESPEARE'S COMPLETE WORKS. Edited by W. J. Craig. Oxford University Press. $4.50.

Next to the Bible, and counting out the dictionary, this is the most basic book in English. I have chosen this from among many good editions simply because I have lived with my copy for 30 years and worn it beautifully smooth.

25. THE HOLY BIBLE. King James Version. Oxford University Press. $9.75.

Choice of a Bible is a personal matter. You may prefer a modern translation. I don't. Give me the organ music of the King James. This edition is leatherbound, a handy size, with concordance and index. Keep it by your bed, to be read first thing in the morning and the last thing at night.

About the Author

Lawrence Clark Powell, Dean of the School of Library Service at UCLA, holds the B.A. and Litt.D. degrees from Occidental College and the Ph.D. from the University of Dijon, France. From a bookstore job he went into public-library work and then joined the UCLA staff in 1938, serving as chief librarian from 1944 to 1961. He has been Lecturer in English since 1954 and became Dean of the School of Library Service in 1960.

Dean Powell is an author and editor, and he writes a monthly magazine column on Western books and authors. Among some 20 books he has written are The Alchemy of Books (1954), A Passion for Books (1959), and Books in My Baggage (1960).

If you want to know the 100 paperbacks he has selected for the library of a sophisticated family, or if you are going abroad and want his list, "Around the World in Sixty Books," send him ten cents in coin or stamps for each list. *Governor Scranton Attends Recognition
For Fiberglas At College Dinner;
New Program Series Gets Underway*

CROSS-CUTTING THE CAMPUS

PENNSYLVANIA's Governor William W. Scranton attended a recognition dinner at the College, Oct. 3, in observance of the 25th anniversary of the Fiberglas Corp. and the 20th year of operation of the Huntingdon plant.

Honored guest at the college-sponsored businessmen's banquet was Harold Boeschstein, president of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation and an industrial leader of national prominence who holds an honorary degree from Juniata (1957).

The dinner, one of a series conducted by the College during its long-range development program, climaxed a four-day community-wide celebration of the Fiberglas birthdays.

President Calvert N. Ellis stated that "it is a privilege and an honor to join the Huntingdon area in this recognition of a corporation which for 20 years has contributed so much to our community."

Governor Scranton, Mr. Boeschstein, some members of the Governor's Cabinet and other state officials and legislators toured the Huntingdon plant and the College. Governor Scranton also held an informative and well-attended press conference in L. A. Beeghly Library prior to dinner which was served in Maude Leshner Hall on the campus.

New Program Series

THE COLLEGE began a new series of public programs of "educational significance" in October with a lectureship on Religious Meaning and the Literary Image by Dr. David L. Miller of Drew University.

Four other programs were held in November: Prof. Fred Rodell, of Yale Law School, was the Judy Lecturer

Governor William W. Scranton (left), presented a personal citation to Harold Boeschstein (right), honored for his 25 years of leadership as president and chairman of the board of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. Both the Governor and President Ellis (center) paid glowing tributes to the industrial and civic leader at a dinner held by the College Oct. 3 to climax the week-long observance of the 20th year of the Fiberglas plant in Huntingdon and the corporation's 25th anniversary.

Nov. 7 and 8; Dr. Eldon J. Gardner, dean of the College of Science and professor of zoology at Utah State, spoke on campus Nov. 11-13; William Whitehead, concert organist, presented a recital Nov. 21; and Eugene Lavery of the Bell Telephone Co. gave an illustrated lecture Nov. 22.

X. J. Kennedy, poetry editor of The Paris Review, assistant professor of English at Tufts University, and writer of a prize-winning book of poems, spoke and read poetry Dec. 5 and 6.

The afternoon and evening programs replace those formally held at the morning convocation in previous years. This year the college has only one convocation program per week—a religious service Wednesday morning. Dr. Dewey J. Hoytenga, associate professor of philosophy, is chairman of the committee which is arranging the new series. He is assisted by various departments which schedule guest lecturers for campus visits.

Memorial Service

"MAY OUR re-dedication be not only a renewal of confidence in our American idealism, but also an act of contrition before God."

Those were the words of Dean Morley J. Mays in his tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy at the college's memorial service in Oller Hall on the National Day of Mourning, Nov. 25. Students and faculty crowded the hall with standing room only for the impressive program.

And, as Dean Mays also stated: "It will hardly add to his lustre to repeat here the memorial eulogies which have already been heard from eloquent sources across the land and elsewhere in the world."

Suffice to say, the tragic event will go down in history as one of this nation's darkest hours.

Computer Center

THERE'S SOMETHING new in the basement of Carnegie Hall (that's the old library)!

It's a "computer center" which has a new IBM 1620 machine purchased with a matching grant from National Science Foundation of $22,090 and "special consideration" from International Business Machines Corp.

Dr. B. Edwin Blaisdell, professor of mathematics, is director of the center which was established for teaching and research in various departments.

Admissions 'How To'

HIGH SCHOOL administrators and guidance counselors in Pennsylvania heard a discussion on college admissions by Frank H. Bowles, former president of the College Entrance Examination Board, at Juniata Oct. 12.

Dr. Bowles, the nation's leading authority on "how to find the right college and get into it" and now an executive of the Ford Foundation, spoke at an open meeting in Oller Hall. Parents of prospective college students were invited.

The high school representatives were guests at a luncheon with Dr.

Bowles following the program. This special meeting on college admissions was scheduled in connection with the dedication of the new L. A. Beeghly Library. Dr. Bowles received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at the dedication ceremony.

'Village' Disappears

A VILLAGE is disappearing from College Hill.

Juniata's temporary housing project, constructed in 1946 to provide homes for married veterans, is being dismantled "in gradual stages" to make room for the proposed multi-million dollar Science Center.

For many, the disappearance of the "Village" will mark the end of an era which provides its nostalgic moments. At one time the typical signs of everyday life included diapers on the washline, baby carriages on the grass, ice cards in the window and coal in the outside bins.

But for the student generation of today and tomorrow, it marks the beginning of far greater educational opportunities.

On this site, hopefully by spring, the college will begin construction of a four-unit complex of science buildings which will cost in excess of $2,300,000.

One of the remaining two-apartment units recently was donated to the Juniata Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, for use at its Seven Mountains Camp. Sections of others have been sold to individuals who have torn down the buildings and removed them.

Originally, six buildings were provided by the Federal Public Housing Administration and moved from war plants and army bases to the east slope of the college's familiar "Round Top."

Now only two remain. One, used as an Art Studio, will be removed soon after the new Art Center is completed in Carnegie Hall.

Andy Observes 'Uhuru Day'

TRADITIONAL tribal dances and spectacular military reviews marked Dec. 12 as a day of independence for some 8.3 million Africans in the East African nation of Kenya. But for Andronico "Andy" Adede, a native of Kenya now a junior at Juniata, there was only a quiet observance at the home of one of his professors.

Kenya's past and present were on display in Andy's home city of Nairobi where the principal activities of Uhuru (Freedom) Day took place. Kenya became the 26th independent African nation since the war.

What this independence means to Kenya was discussed by Adede for a small group of friends gathered in the home of the chairman of Juniata College's department of history (Dr. Kenneth W. Crosby). Andy also played a few native songs on his guitar.

Adede hopes to enter the diplomatic service of his country after he graduates from Juniata College.

So he, too, hopes that Kenya's Africans, Europeans and Indians can live up to the motto on the new coat of arms "Harambee"—Work Together.

Museum Established

ESTABLISHMENT of the Juniata Museum on the second floor of the College's former library, Carnegie Hall, has been authorized to provide a central location for items associated with the history of the college.

In announcing the museum, President Calvert N. Ellis stated that Harold B. Brumbaugh, vice-president for development, will serve as curator.

Mr. Brumbaugh, who has maintained a long-time interest in historical events and items relating to the college, has been sorting available material for the museum's collection. The collection will be open for public display after renovation of the building is completed.

Workmen have been transforming the main floor of the former library into an Art Center. Classrooms and the college's computer center, located in the basement, have been in continuous use. Art Studio and offices should be ready for Spring term, but the Center will not be completed until Summer.

Enrollment Up 2%

ONLY A SLIGHT increase of less than two percent was recorded, but the College's total enrollment for the fall term hit a new high of 862. Last year's high was 846.

The summary shows a record number of resident students, 786, and a new low of non-resident students, 47, among the 833 full-time registrations, according to John V. Hollinger, registrar. There are 29 unclassified and special students enrolled.

Women continued to hold down the "margin of difference" with the male enrollment. There are 402 coeds and 460 men.

In addition to the 862 registered, the college has nine other juniors studying in Europe under the "Brethren Colleges Abroad" program. Five are in Strasbourg, France, and four in Marburg, Germany.

True Christmas Spirit

ALTHOUGH the Juniata campus, like the nation, was stunned by the assassination, the students showed their concern for the spiritual tradition of the Christmas season.

Following a long-time custom, students "decked the halls" and decorated major areas of the campus in keeping with the Yule spirit. In the week preceding the holiday recess, there was ample opportunity for all to show their interest in the true meaning of the season.

A Christmas pageant was held Dec. 15 . . . the Convocation Choir was featured in Nine Lessons and Nine Carols Dec. 18 . . . the annual Christmas party for under-privileged boys and girls of the Huntingdon area was held Dec. 19 . . . and the Christmas worship service also was conducted Dec. 19.

21 Degrees Conferred

THE COLLEGE conferred bachelor's degrees on 21 men and women at its 38th Summer Commencement Aug. 16. Ten bachelor of arts and 11 bachelor of science degrees were awarded by President Ellis at a ceremony in historical Founders chapel.

The 21 degrees increased to 146 the total conferred by Juniata in its June and August commencements last year.

Jan Is Cheered

THE CAPTAIN of Juniata's cheerleaders, Janet C. Peters '64, dark-haired coed from Erlton, N. J., drew some cheers of her own as she reigned as homecoming queen in October. She received her crown at half-time ceremonies of the Juniata-Susquehanna game.

Jan's attendants were Sally E. Barcklow '64, Moorestown, N. J., and Sandra L. Haines '65, Westminster, Md.

Kresge Sends $25,000

THAT "CHALLENGE GIFT" of $25,000 from the Kresge Foundation of Detroit has been sent to the College "in full payment of our grant toward your new library building."

The grant had been approved by the Foundation in July 1962 "conditional upon your College raising the balance of the required funds in contributions from others on or before July 1, 1964, for this building."

President Ellis reported in December to Amos F. Gregory, secretary of the Foundation, that the L. A. Beeghly Library has been completed "and is paid for." The Foundation promptly acknowledged that the College had met the challenge and sent its check.

Esso Grant Awarded

THE COLLEGE is among 23 privately supported Pennsylvania colleges which have shared in the Esso Education Foundation's grants of nearly two million. Juniata was awarded an unrestricted grant of $3,000.

The Foundation said it is continuing its efforts "to help meet the tremendous need for educational opportunities and demands for more and better educated manpower." Unrestricted grants of $750,000 (like the $3,000 to Juniata) were allotted among 170 institutions.

Ministerial Scholarships

A 25-YEAR PROGRAM to establish scholarships at the College for pre-ministerial students has resulted in an endowed fund of $7,500.

The Men's Fellowship of the Middle District Church of the Brethren, which undertook the project in 1942, has turned over this amount to the College "to encourage worthy young people to consider active Christian service." The income will provide a $350 scholarship for pre-ministerial students from the Middle District.

Fifteen students have received a total of $2,550 since the project began. Eight of the 15 are now ministers, three are students in Bethany Theological Seminary, and one is working in the mission field.

The concern for the future supply of ministers motivated the project.

FACULTY BRIEFCASE

Sixteen Named to Faculty

THE APPOINTMENT of 14 full-time and two part-time members of the faculty increased Juniata's active teaching staff to more than 70 for the present college year.

Full-time appointments announced by Dr. Morley J. Mays, vice-president for academic affairs, were:

HOWARD H. CROUCH, assistant professor of education: Graduate of the Ohio State University, with Master's degree from Westminster College; in final stages of doctoral program at Ohio State. Former public school teacher in Ohio and Florida.

DUANE F. STROMAN, instructor in sociology: Graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and of Boston University School of Theology. Working toward doctor's degree at Boston University. Recipient of Cokesbury Graduate Award.

New Admissions Director

RICHARD E. KIMMEY, 28, former executive secretary of the alumni association and an assistant in admissions at Albright College, Reading, succeeded Ronald W. Wertz '59, as director of admissions at Juniata Oct. 7.

Wertz resigned to accept an appointment at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, as director of student aid. He became Juniata's director of admissions in 1960 after being an assistant for one year.

A graduate of Albright College in 1958, Kimmey was a teacher and coach at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf at Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, for three years before returning to Albright in 1961. He was responsible for alumni relations and assisted in admissions and development at Albright for the past two years.

Robert A. Doyle '60 will continue as assistant director of admissions. Both Kimmey and Doyle carry on Juniata's extensive visitation of secondary schools throughout the east.

Kimmey was born at Richlandtown, Pa., near Quakertown, and was graduated from Friends Central School, Philadelphia, in 1954. He received a B.A. in sociology at Albright and has taken graduate study in educational administration at Temple University.

Additional Appointments

TWO PART-TIME instructors to care for "an excessive department load" in languages also were appointed by Dean Mays. They were: Miss Rebecca

Prof. George T. Dolnikowski '52 (left), associate professor of modern languages, was interpreter for a six-member Russian Orthodox delegation which visited Brethren centers in five states for a 12-day visit in late summer. One of the delegates, Archpriest Eugen Ambartsumov, meets Miss Ruth Early, Washington representative of the Church of the Brethren.

C. Barrick, retired teacher in Huntingdon Area High School, for elementary Latin, and Mrs. Paula T. Morris, wife of Dr. Morris, for second year French.

Among the full-time staff appointments this fall were: Miss Ruth M. Auchenbach, former secretary of literature for the Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Cleveland, as faculty secretary and assistant to the executive secretary to the president, Mrs. Anna G. Smith . . . Mrs. Rebecca Irvin Brownlee, former matron of the United Presbyterian Home, Hollidaysburg, as director of residence for Brumbaugh-Oneida halls . . . Robert W. Glenny, Petersburg, as assistant in the College Book Store and post office branch, and cashier in the new Totem Inn Bank . . . J. Kenneth Harkcom '63 as instructional assistant in physics.

Assigned Tour for Dean

DEAN MORLEY J. MAYS '32, vice-president for academic affairs, was selected to make an "administrative visit" to Marburg, Germany, and Strasbourg, France, in December to observe 29 students studying under the Brethren Colleges Abroad program.

The Juniata dean, a member of the administrative committee for the six sponsoring colleges, took a jet flight from New York to Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 3.

He divided his time for 10 days among students who are taking their junior year abroad at Marburg University, West Germany, and at Strasbourg. Nine Juniata College students are among the 29.

Later, on December 13, Dean Mays joined a tour in Rome and visited six countries in the Middle East before returning to the United States Jan. 2. His trip took him to Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel and Greece.

Two Earn Ph.D. Degrees

TWO MORE members of the Juniata faculty earned their Doctor of Philosophy degrees during recent months.

Young W. Kihl, assistant professor of history and political science, received his Ph.D. from New York University Oct. 28 after completing his graduate study in government and international relations.

An anniversary was observed by Prof. Donald S. Johnson, chairman of the department of music, when he played his 20th annual organ recital in Oller Hall Nov. 3. He has performed 119 organ compositions by 68 composers in his annual fall organ recitals.

Earl C. Kaylor, Jr., chairman of the division of humanities and associate professor of religion, was awarded his Ph.D. in history from the Pennsylvania State University Dec. 14. His doctoral dissertation was entitled "The Prohibition Movement in Pennsylvania (1865-1920)."

New Food Director

CROTTY BROTHERS, Inc., managers of the food service department at the College, assigned John E. Blood, Summit, N. J., as director of food service at Juniata in late November to succeed Oliver Eckert.

Mr. Blood, a graduate of Lehigh University (B.A. 1932) comes with 22 years of experience in food service. He had been employed by Saga Food Service, Geneva, N. Y., since 1960, and recently served as food manager at Briarcliff College. He also was a food supervisor at Paterson State Teachers College.

Brief Notes on Faculty

AMONG THE ACHIEVEMENTS and the comings and goings of faculty: George T. Dolnikowski '52, associate professor of modern languages (Russian and German), served as an interpreter with a group of six leaders of the Russian Orthodox Church on a visit to the Church of the Brethren in United States Aug. 25 to Sept. 4 (see photo) . . . Dean Morley J. Mays '32, vice-president for academic affairs, is serving as chairman of the board of directors of Bethany Theological Seminary . . . Prof. Donald C. Hope has been appointed chairman of the department of English and Dr. Ronald L. Cherry has been serving as chairman of the department of economics during the leave of absence of Prof. Thomas F. Nolan . . .

Dr. Homer C. Will, professor of biology emeritus and a recognized authority on sawflies, has agreed to assist an entomologist in Pakistan in identifying forest pests in West Pakistan . . . The Festival of Choirs at the First Baptist Church, Altoona, was directed by William B. Merrel, associate professor of music, Nov. 17 . . . Recently promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve, is Ernest H. Post, assistant professor of history . . . R. Christine Yohe, dean of women, has been elected treasurer for the Pennsylvania Association of Women Deans and Counselors for a two-year term.

Members of the faculty who have presented papers recently are: Dr. Dewey J. Hoitenga, Jr., associate professor of philosophy, who gave a paper on "Logic and the Problem of Evil" at the 10th annual Wheaton Philosophy Conference at Wheaton College, Ill., Nov. 1-2 . . . Kenneth H. Rockwell '57, assistant professor of biology now on leave of absence, was co-author of a paper presented Nov. 23 at the eastern regional meeting of the Comparative Endocrinology Division, American Society of Zoology, at the Pennsylvania State University . . . and J. Peter Trexler, assistant professor of geology, is co-author of a paper which was discussed at the annual field conference of Pennsylvania geologists in Stroudsburg, Pa., Oct. 11-12.

In addition, Dr. Hoitenga was one of four participants in a panel discussion of "Logic and Philosophy: their relation" at a meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Philosophical Society in Pittsburgh Nov. 9 and Prof. Trexler was one of six leaders of a pre-convention field trip for the Geological Society of America Nov. 16-17.

THE JUNIATA SPORTS PARADE

Indians Continue Winning Way

FRED PRENDER has passed his first year test as head coach of the Indians "with blue and gold colors flying." Not only was he able to patch together the remnants of a good but thin 1962 squad, but he juggled personnel and filled the gaps caused by numerous injuries to carry on Juniata's winning tradition with a 5-3-0 record against some of the toughest opponents in Eastern small college football.

Actually, the Indians can look back and count just 13 points which separated them from an unbeaten season. In the three losses to air-minded Gettysburg, power-packed Susquehanna, and defensively tough Trenton State, the margin of difference was four, eight and one.

As promised, the Tribe was tough on defense and only Gettysburg scored more than two touchdowns, two of them in the first six minutes of the season when the young secondary was learning pass defense the hard way. Albright, Geneva, Lycoming, Wilkes and Westminster all scored, but went down to defeat in five exciting games. Even highly touted Susquehanna tallied only two TDs, in a 14-6 contest.

Much of the early season credit for defense goes to one of Juniata's most outstanding all-time guards, Co-Capt. Bill Crowell of Patton, Pa. He gained nation-wide recognition in spite of a hairline fracture of his leg in the Lycoming game which ended his season three games early.

Harrisburg's Grey Berrier, 215-pound senior end, led the team in scoring, pass receiving and punting for the second straight year, but a freshman quarterback took total offense honors. Berrier tallied 24 points, caught 18 passes for 309 yards and 4 TDs, and averaged 33.6 yards with 46 punts.

However, Jim Sutton, promising frosh signal-caller from Ridley Township, paced the total offense with 625 yards (519 in passing on 34 for 78). Sutton set a new Juniata mark against MAC competition with 10 completions in 21 pass attempts against highly ranked Susquehanna.

Senior quarterback, Larry Landini of Sutersville, outpassed Sutton, aided by a record-breaking 17 completions against Westminster. Landini accounted for 559 yards on 42 out of 81 passes.

In addition to Crowell, Berrier and Landini, there were two other seniors who could easily rate "unsung hero" awards for 1963. Tom Mull, center, and Gar Royer, end, both put forth "full effort" and accounted for more playing time than most of the other regulars for the Indians all season. As Coach Prender repeated emphatically: "They are a fine group of boys and I'm proud of them."

Honors for Crowell

POST-SEASON football honors have been coming in for Juniata's outstanding senior guard and co-captain, Bill Crowell of Patton, Pa.

The mild-mannered mathematics major, described by his coach as one who "plays the game the way it should be played," has been named to the Associated Press All-Pennsylvania collegiate first team; the ECAC College (north division) first team; the Williamson Rating Little All-America first team; and the AP's Little All-America second team.

Crowell is only the fourth player in Juniata's football history to be named to the All-State first team. Pat Tarquinio, now coach at Ellwood City, twice won the honor in 1954 and 1955, Joe Veto was a tackle choice in 1954, and Bill Berrier, now assistant coach, was chosen in 1958.

Generally regarded as the best guard and linebacker in the post-war years, Crowell gained his nation-wide recognition in spite of missing the last three games of the last two seasons for the same reason—a broken leg.

Some "old grad" football players have been trying to remember when there was a harder tackler than Crowell playing for the Indians. He drew praise from press, coaches, scouts and his own teammates.

During the past season, the 5-11, 200-pound Crowell was named "outstanding lineman" by the press for the ECAC four games out of five and was selected for the ECAC team after the Geneva game.

Bill, who completed his student teaching in junior high, wants to teach and coach football. As Sports Editor Mailand McIlroy of the Huntingdon Daily News wrote: "If he coaches like he plays, he'll be another Rockne."

Coach Prender and Bill Crowell '63

Co-Captains for Grid

JUNIATA's football squad has elected a halfback and a tackle as co-captains for its 1964 season.

Barry Broadwater, a 5-7, 160-pound "power" runner from Hummelstown, Pa., and Duane Ruble, 205-pound "iron-man" tackle from Sinking Spring, Pa., will lead the Indians next year.

Broadwater, praised by Coach Fred Prender as "pound-for-pound the best halfback in eastern small college football," led Juniata in rushing, kickoff returns, punt returns, and played full-time as defensive halfback. He's a graduate of Lower Dauphin High School and is a junior majoring in biology.

Ruble played a major share of all of Juniata's eight games and saw 58 minutes of action against Westminster in the final contest despite a broken hand. A graduate of Gov. Mifflin High, Ruble posted an 8-1 record in wrestling last season. He also is concentrating in biology.

Cross-Country Success

FOR ITS EIGHTH straight year, Coach Mike Snider's cross-country team has finished with a winning record, 7-2.

John Reeves, senior captain from Ashland, N. J., gained seven first place finishes in nine meets to pace the Tribe to victories over Albright, F. and M., Susquehanna, Lock Haven, Geneva, Elizabethtown and St. Francis. They lost close decisions to Gettysburg and West Chester.

Earl Samuel, junior from Johnstown, was almost as good and finished fifth in the Middle Atlantic championships to help Juniata to a fourth place in the college division. The eight year record is now 50-4!

On the Hardwood

TAKE IT FROM Coach Ralph Harden: "The foundation for Juniata basketball is set . . . this year's team may determine whether or not the foundation is rock or sand."

Five lettermen and three who saw plenty of jayvee action are rarin' to go this season. In addition, there's a two-year college transfer and two promising freshmen pressing for positions. Heading the list of holdovers is Leroy Mock, 6-4 junior who set the pace in scoring, rebounding and shooting accuracy last year. Mock, now co-captain with Bob Hoellein, senior sharpshooter, averaged 17.4 points per game and 15.2 rebounds. Hoellein was runner-up in scoring with a 15.2 average.

Jack Haskell, a 145-pound junior, has taken over as "back-court quarterback" to fill the post left vacant by the graduation of Pat Frazier (now a junior high school teacher and junior varsity coach) and Charles Robuck, husky 6-4 junior newcomer, has replaced John Moeller. Don Engle, 230-pound football and baseball star who also lettered in basketball last season, filled the other forward spot.

Better bench strength is available, too. Bert Goodrich, sophomore letter-winner, Wayne Long, junior, Ted Baldwin and Lew Rarig, sophomores, are seeing plenty of varsity action, along with two freshman "comers" Jim Kirsch and Bob Pascale. Then, too, the coach admits his jayvee squad is the best in his three years at Juniata.

The only "ingredient" still missing is the big man (6-6 and up) . . . the fellow Coach Harden hopes will "wander in" one of these days. In the meantime, the Indians hope to score more upsets to continue last year's surprising improvement in spite of the new respect by opponents. The Tribe had a 2-2 record before the holiday break.

On the Mats

THE TRIBE's wrestling team carried a 1-2 record into the holiday recess with its heavyweight, Duane Ruble, again providing the excitement for Coach Bill Berrier's matmen. Ruble had two pins and lost a close decision in his first three matches to go along with last year's record of eight victories out of nine.

The squad leader is J. C. Day, a 167-pounder from Drexel Hill. Other lettermen are Ken MacFadden at 157, Tom Paxson and Kent Trexler at 147, and two promising sophomores who saw action last year, Dean Richards (130) and Mel Rummel (137) both from Ferndale-Dale, Johnstown.

Among the frosh who have been in action are Lew Adams, Eddington, at 177; John Civitts, Allentown, who had three draws at 157; and Mike Shuey, Bellefonte, at 123.

Warren Craik, professor in biology and head of the department at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, died in his home at 1802 N. 11th St., Abilene, recently after an illness of two years. He suffered from multiple sclerosis. Dr. Craik joined the H-SU faculty in 1953. He served as chairman of the South Texas Academy of Science and vice-president of Biological Sciences of the Texas Academy of Science. His writings included "Some Notes on the Belostomatidae," which was published in the Alabama Journal of Science. He is survived in addition to his wife, Eva Lee, by David Dale, currently a University of Texas student and formerly a student at H-SU, Robert Alan, Gary Charles and Philip Lee, all at home.

State College, Pa.

Russell A. McElwee of New York and Huntingdon, head of his own importing company, Far Eastern Market, Inc., and frequent business visitor to factories in the Orient, talked on America's export and import business to Huntingdon Rotary Club in August. Mr. McElwee remarked that in tracing one of his own buying trips, he looked for the following in different countries: England, woollens; France, high fashion items, soap, perfumes, bags, etc.; Belgium, knit items, and gloves; Germany, clocks, gloves, coats, sweaters; Switzerland, many hand made items; Italy, a large variety of items from turkey platters to sweaters; Israel, textile items and swim suits; India, brass items and floor mats, with a different item in each country.

Walter Hamer toured Scotland, was in Ireland and then on to London to attend sessions of International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry, in June 1963.

Edith (Clark) Shoemaker, received a certificate to the Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, June 1963. She is presently organist at the St. John's Lutheran Church, Ambler, Pa.

Final service at the 63-year-old United Presbyterian Church in Heshbon Church, Indiana County, was held August 25, 1963. The Rev. John H. Clawson was appointed supply pastor of the church in the 1930's and "filled a vacancy that never was filled permanently." The declining membership caused by the population shift, forced the disbanding of the congregation. Rev. Clawson is regular pastor of the nearby Robinson Church of the Brethren.

Margaret (Sigler) and Ralph Cool '26 are now residing at Middletown, Md. Margaret informed us that "Ralph has retired and we have moved back north. He was with Cities Service 36 years. Now he is a 'gentleman farmer.'"

26

George Herman Thrush retired June 1963 with 40 years in the Pennsylvania schools—20 years teaching and 20 years administration. During this time he coached basketball, baseball, track and football.

Patricia Lutz, daughter of Sara (Yocum) Lutz was Huntingdon County's first Peace Corps volunteer. She served as an aide in the English language to teachers in the first six grades of the schools in Tiwi. She also conducted classroom demonstrations in English and was a radio consultant in Manila. Patricia visited Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan and Alaska, before returning home after a two-year term to visit her mother.

James E. Butts, superintendent of schools for 20 years before his retirement a year ago, died in Nason Hospital, Roaring Spring, August 2, 1963. Of his 44 years in education, 37½ years were in administration and six and one-half years in full-time teaching. He had served as president of the Pennsylvania Association of County Superintendents and as the national president of the County and Rural Area Superintendents Division of the National Education Association. His long service in the county superintendent's office began in 1938 as assistant superintendent and in 1942 he assumed the top county post, which he held until July 1, 1962. Survivors are his wife, Gladys, and two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Brumbaugh '59, Duncansville, R. D., and Mrs. Jane Burket '58, Altoona.

New address for Foster B. Statler is 211 Sunset Lane, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. On September 1, Mr. Statler became the chaplain and director of program and social services at Pinecrest Manor, the new Brethren Home for the aging at Mount Morris. Since last January, he has been serving in the same assignment on a part-time basis, while continuing to serve as pastor of the Freeport Church. Relations with the Freeport Church terminated August 31.

The Youngstown Vindicator carried an article headed thus: "Thanks Judge Diehm!" The Junior Chamber of Commerce chose County Judge Edgar G. Diehm to receive its annual Frank Purnell award. The Jaycees felt it a fitting recognition to a leading citizen who has not slowed down much in his work or lost interest in the things which make for a better community. Mr. Diehm, besides being a judge, has been a school-teacher and pastor. It can be said that Judge Diehm earned many "Community Service" degrees in his work for his community, according to the Vindicator. "He did not actually receive any 'Community Service' degrees, even though he earned them, because he didn't expect any such honors. Mr. Diehm has usually given more in public service than he received and he always has been satisfied with the arrangement." The Vindicator also stated it wished to join in tribute to a man who "is a true and refreshing symbol of citizenship at its best."

REV. E. M. DETWILER
New Enterprise, Pa.

Dr. David Dunn ex, was interim pastor of the Abbey Reformed Church, Huntingdon until the post was filled by the Rev. Nelson J. Wenner. Dr. Dunn retired from the Lancaster Theological Seminary September 1, 1961. However, his retirement has been one of many different activities. At the seminary in addition to being dean emeritus and professor emeritus, he is also alumni recorder. During the past school year he was the visiting professor in church history at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif.

Willard K. Wise, retired vice-president of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co., died in August 1963, at his home in Oreland. Mr. Wise joined the insurance company in 1911. For 22 years, he was a general agent for the company in Reading, Allentown and Wilkes-Barre. He was promoted in 1937 to vice-president in charge of agencies and named vice-president and manager of agencies in 1940. He continued in that post until his retirement in 1948. Mr. Wise was a member of the board of directors of Hood College, Frederick, Md. He is survived by his wife, Lillian; a son, Willard K., Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Jane W. Mullen.

The Rev. Jacob M. Blough, 86, of Sebring, died August 22, 1963, at Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park, Fla. The Rev. Mr. Blough lived in Sebring seven years and taught in the Sunday School of the Sebring Church all the years he spent there. At times his class would number several hundred. He was one of the finest of Bible teachers, and his sermons were models of exposition. Mr. Blough was a missionary of the Church of the Brethren to India for 49 years, was pastor of the Church in Tampa for three years, and traveled for the mission board for three years after returning from India. While on the foreign field, Mr. Blough was editor of the Gujarati Sunday School Quarterly, and later the monthly church paper; for 25 years had charge of a boys' orphanage; opened the Bulsar Bible School and for many years was its principal; was many times chairman of the mission conference and moderator of district meeting; was chairman of the Gujarati Bible Revision committee and Union Hymnal committee; served once as moderator of the Bombay Ecumenical Church Council. Mr. Blough taught at Juniata College in the English

FORMER FACULTY

Dr. Theodore D. Lockwood, former assistant professor of history at Juniata College, (1953-1955), has been named dean of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y. He will leave his present post as dean of the faculty at Concord College, Athens, W. Va., to take his new position February 1. He also will become professor of history.

ASSOCIATE

Blanche Shoemaker Wagstaff (Mrs. Donald Carr), was honored when World Distributors Ltd. of London, England, published a 50,000 copy edition of the poetry life of Jesus The Beloved Son. Blanche received an honorary degree (M.A.) from Juniata College in '35.

Scholarship for Music

A GIFT ANNUITY CONTRACT of $31,500 to establish a music scholarship fund at Juniata College was arranged by the late Earl A. Phillips, Dayton, Ohio, prior to his death in November in memory of his wife, the late Ruth Whitehead Phillips, Music '13.

Arrangements have been made to supplement this fund to carry out the life-long wishes of Mrs. Phillips for "the future promotion of music on the campus of Juniata College." The income from the fund will be used for one or more scholarships for students interested in music.

Mrs. Phillips was a sister of the former Mrs. Henry P. Harley '14 (Trellis Whitehead) who died in 1919, and Mrs. Louis Mast S'21 (Mary Lois Whitehead) now residing at 915 Cumberland St., Dayton, Ohio.
